Table of Contents

- Acknowledgments……………………………………………………………………. iv
- Chinese Abstract…………………………………………………………………….vi
- English Abstract…………………………………………………………………….vii

Chapter

1. Introduction…………………………………………………………………. 1
   - The Thesis Statement……………………………………………………… 1
   - Structure of the Thesis…………………………………………………….. 8
   - Stephen King’s Life and Literary Evaluation……………………………..11
     - Stephen King’s The Shining………………………………………………12
     - Plot Summary of The Shining……………………………………………..13
     - A Critical Overview……………………………………………………….16
     - Sigmund Freud’s Oedipus Complex………………………………………22
     - Jacques Lacan’s Three Order……………………………………………24
     - Lacanian S/s……………………………………………………………….27
     - My Application of Freud’s Oedipus Complex and Lacan’s Three Orders..29

2. The Oedipal…………………………………………………………………34
   - A Male Journey through the Oedipus Complex…………………………..34
   - Jack’s being Continually Haunted by the Image of His Father……………37
   - Jack’s Dereliction of Duty as the Paternal Agency………………………..49

3. As though His Life Depended on Learning to Read…………………………56
   - Danny’s Language Acquisition as a Determinant of His Survival………..56
   - Tony as Danny’s Unconscious…………………………………………….64
Divorce and the Bad Thing.................................................................68
The Shining as a Bridge between Imaginary Order and Symbolic Order...76
Roque. Stroke. Redrum.................................................................80
4. The Sleep of Reason........................................................................87
   A Human Monster’s Coming into Being......................................87
   From College-Educated Man to Wailing Ape..............................93
   The Breadth of His Responsibility to the Overlook......................98
   Have to be Punished.................................................................104
5. Conclusion......................................................................................109
   Conclusion of the Psycho-analytic Study.................................109
Works Cited......................................................................................114