

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to express my deepest and sincere gratitude to my thesis advisor, Dr. Hsueh-ying Yu, for her enlightening guidance and inspiring instruction in the development and completion of this study. Dr. Yu inspired my interest in the field of discourse analysis and improved my ability in writing. In the process of meeting and discussion, Dr. Yu not only provided prudent and pointed guidance but also gave me warm and sincere support.

Thanks also go to the committee members, Dr. Chieh-yue Yeh and Dr. Hao-jan Chen, for their perspicacious comments and suggestions during the oral defense. My gratitude is extended to all my teachers in the Master of Arts in English Teaching Program, National Chengchi University, for their devoted instruction.

I also greatly appreciate members of my thesis study group, Sarah Hu and Cindy Chiang, for their support and encouragement during the tough time of this year. My deepest thanks go to my classmate, Melody Chen, April Fan. I also want to thank my colleagues, who offered warm encouragement and love in my hardest times of teaching and research, in Bai-ling senior high school.

A special love and gratitude is extended to my family. I thank my parents for their support and concern on me. Finally, I want to express my deepest love and thanks to my loving husband for his support to give me strength and confidence in depression during the most difficult time of thesis writing.
